

Graduate Certificate in the Social Economy and Co-operatives

What are the roles of co-ops and social economy organizations in the modern economy?

What unique institutional and governance characteristics explain their successes and behaviours?

This program is for people from any educational or professional background

- designed for working professionals — upgrade your skills, transition to master's program
- blended-learning option with a combination of in-person and online courses
- part-time study — May 2018–April 2019
- May 2018 start date

Enrolment is limited; apply early to save your spot!

Learning outcomes

- articulate the policy conditions that support the development of social enterprises and co-ops
- evaluate the role of social economy organizations in delivering services
- compare governance structures in social enterprises, co-operatives, and other organizations

Course options for 2018–19

- JSGS 846: Co-operatives in the New Economy
Examine how policy has shaped the role played by co-ops in the economy.
- JSGS 849: Social Economy and Public Policy
Study how policy affects community capacity building and partnership development.
- JSGS 885: Co-operative Governance and Leadership in Action
Investigate a real-world problem in a social economy organization or a co-op.
- JSGS 801: Governance and Administration
Learn how to assess political and administrative decision making and policy outcomes.

For more information

www.usaskstudies.coop

www.schoolofpublicpolicy.sk.ca

Darcy Overland
darcy.overland@usask.ca
306.966.8502

Offered through the Johnson Shoyama Graduate School of Public Policy and the Centre for the Study of Co-operatives

www.usaskstudies.coop