

The Canadian Centre for the Study of Co-operatives presents

CO-OP CONVERSATIONS

A casual online gathering for co-operative professionals to learn from others in the field and exchange information

ACT NOW: ACCOUNTING FOR CO-OPERATIVE TRANSFORMATION (COMING TO YOUR CO-OP SOON) FEATURING DAPHNE RIXON AND FIONA DUGUID

The Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) are in the minds of members and the strategic practices of co-operative boards and management. Hot on the heels of this year's Co-op Week theme, "Co-operating on Climate Change", this Co-op Conversation will feature a new online tool, called, "ACT: Accounting for Co-operative Transformation". Designed through an action research project, ACT is a tool made by co-operatives to help co-operatives shift from conceptualizing their contribution to SDGs to implementation, measurement, and reporting. ACT builds on the complementary nature of the Co-operative Principles and the SDGs to support co-operatives to record impact, measure results, and broadcast their story. This Co-op Conversation features the research leads of this project, Drs. Daphne Rixon and Fiona Duguid. They will present the research that led to the development of the tool and provide a demonstration of the tool.

Date: Wednesday, December 6

Time: 12:00 - 1:00 PM (Saskatchewan time)
